"Neon Sun"

she was born behind the sun behind the neon sun
the day before the rain the day before you came i believe in god for seven days seven days of faith

she smiled and said to me (it still hurts)
now you're on your own

why is it all so simple?
she's the one to die for
(the way you walk - the way you walk away)

she came back to apologise for all the things she'd done inject a last surprise to light those neon eyes

can it be so simple?
i need you at night
i need you to help me
i need you alive
can it be so simple for you?
