The Heavens are piling up with the souls of demons.
It's only a matter of seconds until they tear down those gates and angels drop like bombs.
Exploding and emitting vast amounts of radiation onto the rest of the world.
It commences to seep through my pores.
Permeating itself into my lungs.
Circulating in my blood stream.
Flowing straight to my heart.
Everyone's looking for an escape, but no one can escape this.
Everyone's praying for forgiveness, but who will forgive them.
This is Purgatory.
This is Judgment day.
Heaven's overflowing.
Heaven's decomposing.
This is extinction.
