In the midnight, moonlight hour I'm walking alone that lovely mile and everytime I do Keep seeing that picture of you

Here comes my baby, here she comes now and when she comes it's no surprise for me
with another guy
Here comes my baby, here she comes now
walking with her love, with her love, that's also fine never do they cry, no matter how I try

If you ever walk alone and you forever talk to her on the phone and if I try to call your name Everytime it comes out the same

Here comes my baby, here she comes now
and when she comes it's no surprise for me
with another guy
Here comes my baby, here she comes now
Walking with her love, with her love, that's also fine

Here comes my baby, here she comes now
and when she comes it's no surprise for me
with another guy
Here comes my baby, here she comes now
Walking with her love, with her love, that's also fine
