"Stay Young"

this world is not what i expected growing up responsibilities like taxes and showing up all just a sip or a line away to live without boundaries free yourself and seize the day facing my worst shade of fear to one day have wasted all my years not having not having fun our placement in time is more than fair accept our fate and stay sincere we can't stay young but i'll live like one it's like it doesn't even matter what you want living our lives after a pattern and you can't stop thinking your life can't be this way an ant in an ant farm

our placement in time is more then fair accept our fate and stay sincere

face the facts it's all so obvious nothings for free but the truth is always that laws annoy you and the good stuff destroys you face the facts it's all so obvious
the good stuff destroys you

accept our fate and stay sincere

to one day have watsed all my years
not having not having fun

accept our fate and stay sincere
we can't stay young but i'll live like one
