If I fall or trip back into love
I'm going to bring a ladder and gloves
So I can climb right back out
If there's ever even a shred of doubt

I'm gonna bring a flashlight too and
Leave a trail and stick to the plan
You can get real lost down there if you're not sure

Of the foreign territory
There are times when the path gets blurry
And the wrong turn feels right

But who would want me anyway?
I'm a lush with broken parts of paper-mã¢chã©
And I have nothing left to give, I don't think I ever did

There are times when I wish that someone
Would help me find the person I was
So give me a detailed map of the streets
Spelling out the traffic patterns and beats

I'm finding safety in lines
They are painted so they can guide
Empty tanks, broken wheels take me home

Right now I find myself dangling
On the edge, try not to fall in Back to where I came from

But who would want me anyway?
I'm a lush with broken parts of paper-mã¢chã©
And I have nothing left to give, I don't think I ever did

Because I dove in way too deep with rocks tied to me
I should have had a plan
'Cause now these ropes won't come free

I do not have faith if I did then I would feel safe
I would wait here for fate but it's conveniently late
The bottom is a place that I know too well

So who would want me anyway?
I'm a lush with broken parts and I'll never change
And I have nothing left to give, I don't think I ever did

I wish I could find the person that I was
I always thought that I'd be happy if I was loved
But I have nothing left to give, I don't think I ever did
