In all our graceful words
Without love
They're just a burden from our tongues
The taste remains and without faith
We're still and arms length away
But somehow we're burning brighter
You'll never be more beautiful than today
Whole-hearted we're open
Our madness silent
Cause we know when you come
You come in love

Cause love is all we need
I came here with nothing
But I left with everything
And all the truth you bring
Still I came here with nothing
But I left with everything

To be honest
We're older
And life makes us stand in disbelief
Are you who you want to be
I've learned that it's ok
To be broken at your feet
And it's where I wanna be

Cause love is all we need
I came here with nothing
But I left with everything
And all the truth you bring
Still I came here with nothing

Your faith is only as strong as the words you speak... so speak
