Just throw it back, for one more night
On a starlit and moon-struck night
The ground did fold and eat us both
But all my love, I did devote

Beneath the rafters the angels sing
Spinning violence and playing with my heart

The song I wrote, it was for you
To live inside of me, I'm dying inside you
The song I wrote, it was for you.
To live inside of me, I'm dying inside you

Lost inside another crash
The bones I had, turned into ash
The world did cry, the night you died
And I am no good at suicide

Beneath the rafters the angels sing
Spinning violence and playing with my heart

The song I wrote, it was for you
To live inside of me, I'm dying inside you
The song I wrote, it was for you
To live inside of me, I'm dying inside you

But I lost what was mine
And I want what was mine
But I lost what was mine
And I want what was mine

My heart now it always breaks
The blood did drip and I did take Another wish, another kiss
No more will for me to kill
We'd run away in our dismay
But please, come back to me

Just throw it back, for one more night
On a starlit and moon-struck night
The ground did fold and eat us both
But all my love to you

The song I wrote, it was for you
To live inside of me, I'm dying inside you
The song I wrote, it was for you
To live inside of me, I'm dying inside you
