Our families are a weird machine
There's too many parts to tape back together
Before you turn 18
You shake cause you're not ready
But fear comes back for more
Be a light in their darkness
Be a glow on the shore
He'll turn it around

New fire lit in you
A new fire circles this room
May you never be afraid of your faith in
New fire lit in you
A new fire circles this room
May you never be afraid of your father

Families are a precious thing
There's too many hearts to break all at once
Before you turn 23
You scream cause you weren't honest
And you left cause you were wrong
I pray for grace in your decisions
And hope you won't be gone too long

He'll turn it around
I swear He'll turn it around

New fire lit in you
A new fire circles this room
May you never be afraid of your faith in
New fire lit in you
A new fire circles this room
May you never be afraid of your father...

Take, take that knife from your neck...
Take, take that knife from your neck...

New fire lit in you
A new fire circles this room
May you never be afraid of your faith in
New fire lit in you
A new fire circles this room

May you never be afraid of your father...
