I should be singing louder
I should be playing faster
But it's 5 in the morning around here and I've got neighbors
I love this town with all of my heart
But lack of sleep has given me a brand new start
And this medication's going to my head

I'll find you somewhere in America.
I'll leave from my end and you can leave from yours
We'll meet in the middle (in the middle of America)
Somewhere in between my East coast and your
California shore

I've been staring at your pictures cause you've got sparkling eyes
Makes me jealous I want to be there beneath that same western sky
And I'm wondering what that sign means by dangerous (dangerous)
I'm headed to the state line later this week, I'm finally getting my tattoo done I hope that you'd be proud of me,
Oh I know what you mean it's going to set me free

I'll find you somewhere in America.
I'll leave from my end and you can leave from yours
We'll meet in the middle (in the middle of America)
Somewhere in between my East coast and your
California shore

And if I don't make it to California (California
I guess we'll be hanging around (hanging around)
Cause we're just living the dream after all Ya'll it feels like I'm living in Elizabethtown (hanging around, around)

I'll find you somewhere in America.
I'll leave from my end and you can leave from yours
We'll meet in the middle (in the middle of America)
Somewhere in between my East coast and your
California shore

Your California shore
