I am running out of patience,
Seems that we have run out of time,
But it's another fight for another night
To get you off my mind
And I'm thinking that I should walk away

But the catch is you know,
That I can't let you go
Through the good times and the bad times,
You know I love you so
You can lay down on my shoulder if you want to
If you fall you won't fall far cause I'll catch you
And even when it rains
I'll be there just the same
Cause my whole life has changed since I met you
I still hate the way you call and wake me up
When I'm sleeping
Fussing and fighting and crying I've had enough
And I'm leaving
But maybe if I stay
And choose not to walk away
We could last for one more day

And the catch is you know,
That I could never go
Through the good times and the bad times
You know I love you so
You can lay down on my shoulder if you want to
If you fall you wont fall far cause I'll catch you
And even when it rains I'll be there just the same
Cause my whole life has changed since I met you.

And even if we can't forget the past
Just know that we both save the best for last

And you can lay down on my shoulder if you want to
And if you fall you wont fall far cause I'll catch you
And even when it rains
I'll love you just the same
Cause my whole life has changed since I met you
