"This Heaven"

All the pieces fall into place
Where we walk these fields
And i reach out and touch your face
This earthly heaven is enough for me

So break the bread and pour the wine
I need no blessings but i'm counting mine
Life is much more than money buys
When i see the faith in my children's eyes

I've felt the power in a holy place
Wished for comfort when in need
Now i'm here in a state of grace
This earthly heaven is enough for me

So break the bread and pour the wine
I need no blessings but i'm counting mine
Life is much more than money buys
When i see the faith in my children's eyes
