Things have a way of changing somehow from what you want them to be Just when you think you know what you need now it still seems incomplete
You wanna show me what I've never seen but I want to see more You wanna take me where I've never been but I've been there before

Coz you and me
We could be
You make me feel so complete
And can't you see you're what I need
Without you there's no you and me
(x2)

I can make things better
If you just close your eyes
And you will see things clearer this could be our night

So let's just stay here together for now We'll take things as they come
No need to try and think through it somehow Just let it all come undone
You wanna show me what I've never seen
but I want to see more
You wanna take me where I've never been
but I've been there before

Coz you and me
We could be
You make me feel so complete
And can't you see you're what I need
Without you there's no you and me
(x2)
