Love on the air
I keep transmitting but reception is hazy
I don't get an answer, keep sending it fast
Always knew it was crazy to put my love on the air

No one will hurt me again
No one will cause me to lie
No one will control me by pain
No one will cause me to cry

I was looking for love in wandering eyes
Like a ship trying to fix on a beacon
I learned how to sigh on the ribbon and wires
It's a habit that's so hard to weaken

No one will ever manipulate
Make me promise to do or die
No one can make me hesitate
What can I lose if they try

I was looking for love like the very first time

Didn't realize love never left me
Contradicted, conspired, I connived and designed
Nothing on earth could arrest me

Reception is hazy
When you put your love on the air
Always knew it was crazy
To put my love on the air

But I only communicate
When I put my love on the air
You don't have to consummate
Love on the air

No one will hurt me again
No one will cause me to lie
No one will control me by pain
No one will cause me to cry

I was looking for love in wandering eyes

Like a ship trying to fix on a beacon
I learned how to sigh on the ribbon and wires
It's a habit that's so hard to weaken

I put my love on the air
Love
