I've been around the world
But never felt the burn of true desire
I've fallen in and out
No spark has ever turned into fire

It's not easy - trying please me
But you have caught my eye
If you want me - then make me see
Prove that you're right

It takes more than words for you to be my man
Some things that you gotta understand
You've gotta surrender your love to conquer my heart
More than words for you to be my man

Come - sweet talk put aside
Nowhere left to hide - make me feel it
Come - look into my eyes
Let me know tonight - can't conceal it

It's not easy - trying please me
But you have caught my eye
If you want me - then make me see
Prove that you're right

It takes more than words for you to be my man
Some things that you gotta understand
You've gotta surrender your love to conquer my heart
More than words for you to be my man

Got such a silver tongue
Don't get me - don't get me wrong
It's just not my way to win me over
