(Spoken)

Kevin: Hi, I'm Kevin.

Phoebe: And I'm Phoebe.

Count: I'm Count von Count.

Kevin: Here's a little song for you guys and gals out
There who can't quite figure out what the wacky world
Of measuring is all about.

Phoebe: And it goes something like this...

Count: It goes exactly like this!

(Sung)

Phoebe: How deep is your bathtub?

Count: 2 feet

How high is your shelf?

3 feet

Kevin: How tall is that penguin?

24 inches

You can find out yourself

Phoebe and Kevin: Just get out your ruler

And you will see

Kevin: How fun and useful measuring can be

Phoebe: How tall is your brother?

2 feet, 1 inch

How big is that tree?

5 feet

Kevin: How wide is your mother?

One and a half feet

Don't come running to me

Phoebe and Kevin: Once you've tried a ruler

I'm sure you'll agree

Kevin: How fun and useful measuring can be

Phoebe and Kevin: Inches, yards and feet

They really can't be beat

Count: For measuring they bring home all the prizes

Kevin: You will find them on your ruler

Count: And there's really nothing cooler

All: When you want to figure out what something's size is

Phoebe and Kevin: How long is that noodle?

8 inches

How tall is that drink?

5 inches

Phoebe: How big is your poodle?

2 feet, 5 inches

Kevin: How deep is your sink?

1 foot

Phoebe and Kevin: Once you've tried a ruler

I'm sure you'll agree

Phoebe: How truly useful measuring

Phoebe and Kevin: How truly useful measuring

All: How truly useful measuring can be
