The rain is beating down,
On this kid's playground,
As the lights go up and the chalk hits the board,
My mind is senseless, my instincts secure

Twenty-nine turn to the right and fourteen to the left, Unlock the combination to my fragile mind to see what I detest.

Let it be, let it be, boy you better stop
Let it be, let it be, boy you better not
Let it be, boy, the curfew is now,
The bell is silent but loud at two.

Let it be, let it be, boy you better fight
Let it be, let it be, boy the door's in sight
Let it be, boy, oblivious mess you see that I've become

Come on, this is the time to show us what you're Made of, just keep it real and then you'll see
That we take our time to do it up right,
Take a note this is how we do.
Don't you know the woven thread around my wrist is proof that we are true

Let it be, let it be, boy you better stop
Let it be, let it be, boy you better not
Let it be, boy, the curfew is now,
The bell is silent but loud at two.

Let it be, let it be, boy you better fight
Let it be, let it be, boy the door's in sight
Let it be, boy, oblivious mess you see that I've become

Listen closely,
I've been mostly
Blind but now I see it's clear,
'Cause when I'm folding you are holding on
So that I know you're near

Listen closely,
I've been mostly

Blind but now I see it's clear,
'Cause when I'm folding you are holding on
So that I know you're near

We will always be best friends

Let it be, let it be, boy you better stop
Let it be, let it be, boy you better not
Let it be, boy, the curfew is now,
The bell is silent but loud at two.

Let it be, let it be, boy you better fight
Let it be, let it be, boy the door's in sight
Let it be, boy, oblivious mess you see that I've become
