Every single day a smile on my face
Consistently around, I can not relate I distance me persistently, am I the one that's in the wrong
25 years, I'm already gone
But it's too late now to go back how I'm off on my own 2 backpacks and a knapsack and a bag to get me what That's all I've ever needed it's always been repeated I've never been defeated cuz I land back on my feet again
Cuz I'm a menace to society and
I don't wanna become what's in me
Grow up it's time for you to move on They say doing what you want to do can only get you so long
But don't try to blame me for shit I didn't do
Cuz that will only get you places you don't to go too
But I can understand in the end
Deceptions got you all fucked up my friend
But that's ok I just blaze the path and through the hour glass
My time will pass like everyone else has Cuz I'm a menace to society and
I don't wanna become what's in me
All I need is the sun today, All I need is the sun today
But the sun won't come out today
