one day i'll stop and forgive myself for all the things i've run from from all the things i've left unsaid to all the ones unsaid to do it every time do it every time love em' to their face hate em' from behind'

i do it every time do it every time

one day i'll try to make amends and put to rest this violence until it stops i can't sit still behind this veil of silence you don't seem to believe me i don't doubt it's deceiving peel the skin it is empty i just need you to suck me out of hear we're running into here it's coming out of fear we're running
down

one day i'll stop forgive myself for all the things i've run from from all the things i've left unsaid
