Desperately trying to find my way
Hopelessly grabbing for the words to say
Dangerously searching for the remedy
Cause I want to dream the way I dreamt it to be
And I take your breath inside my soul
What's at stake
Will I ever lose control and it feels like you're a million miles away
And I'm still longing for that day
'Cause I don't want to go home right now

And I'm desperately seeking
I'm dangerously hoping the walls will come down
'Cause I don't want to go home right now

Choking me with these words I say
Poetry is not enough to say or express
I confess that you're everything to me
And I hate the things in which I fear
And I break into this world unclear
'Cause I want to be the child you've called me to be
But I can't see past the broken part of me

Choking me with these words I say
Poetry is not enough to say or express...
I confess...it's all about you me today...
