Banished to this place for a crime not committed Alone I walk in fear of this forbidden zone
I feel a darkened force surrounding me
In solitude and pain I've wandered endlessly

Oh take this nightmare away
Why must I be tormented by this pain

Night falls as I approach the barren wasteland
The cries I hear are made of creatures still unknown
Strange thoughts and visions now are haunting me
Somehow I know this place was meant for me Watch out! No mans land
Lost now in a world of pure darkness
No mans no mans land, world of pure evil

Alone the dark stranger walks through the barren wasteland
He struggles with the fact he has been chosen to enter the forbidden zone Why was he chosen for this journey and why have the Gods selected him as the people's savior
All the while he listens to the voices in the wind warning him to beware!! Yeah, yeah.
