

Seventh Star "Dead End"

Visit "Dead End" on MotoLyrics.com

Death is coming to take you away.
You try to hide but there is no escaping.
Every second is a countdown to the end of your world.
And time is drawing near when all your treasures will burn.
Deception had held your hand, and led you down the path of lies.
The four walls around you will only satisfy your eyes.
Life is more than what you own.
Your status, your possessions, will fade away.
And you'll be left alone.
It's time to face the judge.
The scales of life have weighed you.
And your pride has held you down.
Any day could be your last one.
Where will you run when the walls cave in?
There's still time to turn around before you reach your DEAD END.
