You wrapped your hands around my throat,
You squeeze so hard but I won't choke.
(2x)
My eyes could only see what was right in front of me.
Sometimes what it seems to be, isn't reality.
You fooled me for so long, but now I have moved on.
Your disguise is gone.
It's a daily fight to stand my ground,
The lines been drawn between you and me.
The mask you wear is fading fast.
And now you know that you wont last.
Everyone can see straight through your lies, your game
is up.
Fall to your knees.
Everyone can see straight through your lies, your game
is up.
It's a daily fight to stand my ground the lines been drawn between you and me.
The mask you wear is fading fast and now you know that you wont last.
My eyes could only see what was right in front of me,
Sometimes what it seems to be isn't reality.
You fooled me for so long but now I have moved on.
Your disguise is gone.
Fall to your knees, your game is up.
(2x)
