Music: Anna Karlin and Dexter Kozen, Lyrics: Steve Rubin

The daily news makes me insane
Bombarding me with random pain
Switch it off and the noise won't wane
Bastards simply turn up the gain
All of my friends repeat their lies
What to like and what to despise
Propaganda is billboard size
"We let you care" their message cries
People, you are so damn dumb
When millions die, you go all numb
But kill just one, the whole world stares
Who cares, who cares, who fucking cares
I care about the human race
We're growing at a rapid pace
But what good is a single face
Or seven people lost in space
We must not sweat the small details
Like crying over dog entrails
While millions languish in the jails

With fortress walls to mute death wails
People, you are so damn dumb
When millions die, you go all numb
But kill just one, the whole world stares
Who cares, who cares, who fucking cares
{Guitar}
Which tragedy would first get filed
The VP's little kidnapped child
Or Bhopal, where the bodies piled
The kid's worth more, that gets me riled
One day the bombs will start to blow
The press will be the first to go
Those left alive will have much woe
They'll live the truth they didn't know
People, you are so damn dumb
When millions die, you go all numb
But kill just one, the whole world stares
Who cares, who cares, who fucking cares
