Where to find happiness? No one seems to know the rules.

Out in the wilderness? Or in a city where people can finally choose.

No one likes to be told just what it is they'll have to do...
It makes more sense to grow old when the odds make us willing to pursue.

Saskaboom! It's the chance of a lifetime better than a piece of the moon.

Gone too soon. You better make a move, get a grip on the groove yeah!

Saskaboom! Call it the birth of a pipeline of just the birth of something to prove.

Saskatoon is a very pretty city in the age of the Saskaboom.

Please avoid loneliness or anything too sad.

Never passion before principle, just an easy trick we've had.

I don't sneeze at health care it's our free ticket to ride.

I don't need a million shares, keep your stocks away from pride.

(Away from pride...)

Saskaboom! It's the chance of a lifetime better than a piece of the moon.

Gone too soon. You better make a move, get a grip on the groove yeah!

Saskaboom! Call it the birth of a pipeline of just the birth of something to prove.

Saskatoon is a very pretty city in the age of the Saskaboom.

Spruce up your home, baby boomers overthrown

Watching Corner Gas, Brent is like a thousand jokes in a single act.

Then I wonder and I ponder and I feel a little insecure.

But if you're happy than I'm happy, we're all happy

We're so grumpy... we're so cheesy...

Where to find happiness, no one seems to have the tools.

Lost in the middle of the bitterness where no one ever gets to choose.

There's only one solution: pack your gear and get to the action;

Saskaboom will find you, ring at your door step tell you forget regret.

Saskaboom! It's the chance of a lifetime better than a piece of the moon.

Gone too soon. You better make a move, get a grip on the groove yeah!

Saskaboom! Call it the birth of a pipeline of just the birth of something to prove.

Saskatoon is a very pretty city in the age of the Saskaboom.

Saskaboom! It's the chance of a lifetime better than a piece of the moon.

Gone too soon. You better make a move, get a grip on
the groove yeah!

Saskaboom! Call it the birth of a pipeline of just the birth of something to prove.

Saskatoon is a very pretty city in the age of the Saskaboom.

The Age of the Saskaboom...

The age of the saskaboom...

The age of the saskaboom.
