Turning 17 you come into yourself
You start finding out that you need someone else
You'll take anyone that even looks your way
That's a thing that we call promiscuity

Going to the movies or chilling at the mall
Watching cool kids making out in the main hall
When you're one of them well everything is swell
When you're not you're kind of in a living hell

Don't need no reason
This song shouldn't rhyme
When you're faced with all the pressure
You'll see how easy it is

Someone tells you something but its a god damn lie
Try not to believe it but then she starts to cry
Giving in is giving up thats what they say
Just wait another week and it will be okay

Don't need no reason
This song shouldn't rhyme
When you're faced with all the pressure
You'll see how easy it is

Don't need no reason
This song shouldn't rhyme
When you're faced with all the pressure
You'll see how easy it is
How easy it is
You'll see how easy it is
