It's a fucked up place this morning
The streets don't feel the same
I wish I could've seen your eyes crumble inside
The relapse comes, my head will shake and rumble
I didn't even know your name
I wish I could've seen your life crumble inside
Here lies what couldn't fly here this morning
I wish you would've known your name
And would you feel the sky falling?
Or did you come again?

Everytime you go away the hole inside my head
There's a rain cloud and every day's the same
Everytime you go away the hole inside my head
There's a rain cloud

I broke my head this morning
The clouds just wouldn't lift
I wish I could've been your eye's
And break you tonight
So relax calm your head it won't be long now
The Rx is setting in
The fire inside you believe tonight
Was nothing you could have fixed

Everytime you go away the hole inside my head
There's a rain cloud and every day's the same
Everytime you go away the hole inside my head
There's a rain cloud

So, what can you say?
Why can't you see?
It's all in my head

We're nowhere

Everytime you go away the hole inside my head
There's a rain cloud and every day's the same
Everytime you go away the hole inside my head
There's a rain cloud

So, why can't you see?

It's all in my head
What can you say?
It's all in my head
What can you say?
