She's a home-grown, natural-born girl next door Never ever ever wanted anything any more Than somebody who would love her
Just as much as she was gonna love him

Sweet little girl never had an evil thought Till she caught him out being where he should've been not
In that minute it was ended and forever changed to never again

Now she's breaking hearts and taking names
From now on she's making her own list of old flames
Look out boys, it's a brand new game
Be on your guard, she's breaking hearts and taking
names

She's outgrown the notion, love's made to last
That Cinderella-syndrome's a thing of the past
If you're thinking that she's waiting for another Prince Charming, get real

Just look at all the rookies lining up to take a shot Got 'em slipping and a-tripping, trying to show her what they got Steppin' up to the plate, not knowing that she's playing the field

Now she's breaking hearts and taking names
From now on she's making her own list of old flames
Look out boys, it's a brand new game
Be on your guard, she's breaking hearts and taking
names

She's breaking hearts and taking names
From now on she's making her own list of old flames
Look out boys, it's a brand new game
Be on your guard, she's breaking hearts and taking
names
Be on your guard, she's breaking hearts and taking
names
