In the infinity of heaven,
There's no other sky to seek,
I have never reached the certainty.
Even though it seems amazing,
To say we are meant to be,
Impossible it seems,
I have looked outside my planet.
You are so far away to be,
A normal human being,
You can't assume or write your own destiny.
You fill the hole in my deep,
I know, I know,
But I have to let you go,
But you leave me with my hopes.
It's the reason that I need,
It's the life and fire in me,
Against the shadows,
You share the peace in me.
I'm the priest along the dark,
I'm the one that needs its light,
Forgive my darkness,
Put the strength in my soul.
