Wake up and pray
thank god for another day why give up all
the thanks you love
and threw it all away

and your chariot blows
lullaby
it's gotta be
something more
and you lost it all
when you think you'd blow
it's gotta be
something more

I've drawn so tight
thank god for another night give in the breathe
the breathe you made
and now when you almost gone

it's gotta be
something more
and you lost it all
when you think you'd blow
it's gotta be
something more

and when you throw it all away you'd throw it all away

throw it all away
