John Dryden (1631-1700)

Hidden Flame by John Dryden

Feed a flame within, which so torments me
 That it both pains my heart, and yet contains me:
 'Tis such a pleasing smart, and I so love it,
 That I had rather die than once remove it.
 Yet he, for whom I grieve, shall never know it;
 My tongue does not betray, nor my eyes show it.
 Not a sigh, nor a tear, my pain discloses,
 But they fall silently, like dew on roses.
 Thus, to prevent my Love from being cruel,
 My heart's the sacrifice, as 'tis the fuel;
 And while I suffer this to give him quiet,
 My faith rewards my love, though he deny it.
 On his eyes will I gaze, and there delight me;
 While I conceal my love no frown can fright me.
 To be more happy I dare not aspire,
 Nor can I fall more low, mounting no higher.
