Now whether you're from yawd or abrawd
Gotta let you know, the world is one big yawd
So let the leaders of the world know
I wanna drive a car, back yawd a fraud
Just give thanks to the Lord and protect we yawd

No one stops to smell the roses
There's just too much going on Wish we'd only stop to notice
That the writing's on the wall

I can hear the people talking
Longing for them olden days
We can choose the path we walk in
If we will only change our ways

We are the ones who make this world whole again
We are the ones who make it a home again
We are the ones who make this world whole again
We are the ones who make it a home again
We are the ones

Easily, we point the finger
Always someone else to blame, yaa
You can't always be a winner
That's the nature of the game

One by one, we'll make a difference
There's no effort that's too small
Let's decide to go distance
And change the writing on the wall

We are the ones who make this world whole again
We are the ones who make it a home again
We are the ones who make this world whole again
We are the ones who make it a home again
We are the ones

Have to stand up and rise against all them
To get all the way to the end
We are the ones
Out of one we are many my friend, ah unity

I am gonna defend
We are the ones

We are the only who have to set the trend
You better listen to the message we send
We are the ones
It's such a waste no body pretend
So if we make this world a home again

We are the ones who make this world whole again
We are the ones who make it a home again
We are the ones who make this world whole again
We are the ones who make it a home again

We are the ones who make this world whole again
We are the ones who make it a home again
We are the ones who make this world whole again
We are the ones who make it a home again
We are the ones

Gotta let'em know, nah ah mean
We the only ones who can save the world, you know, aah
Save if from global warming, you need that Peace, love, protect all, you know what I mean
Remember world is one big yawd
One time, Shaggy, scorpion
One time, big up
We are the ones baby
