I'm Here

I know you aren't coming back everything we got time left it behind I know you aren't bringing back what we spent together it wouldn't never repeat again A thousand years won't be enough to erase you and forget And now I'm here trying to convert cities from countries mixing sky with sea i know I let you run away I know I lost you nothing is gonna be the same A thousand years can be reach so I can forgive chorus:
I'm here, loving you drawing myself between pictures and notebooks between things and memories that i can't understand I'm turning crazy changing feet for my face this night for day and there's nothing i can do

The letters i wrote i never sent them away you wouldn't want to know about me I can't understand how fool i was is a matter of faith and time A thousand years with others a thousand years more Are enough to love

Chorus

If you still think some of me you know I'm still waiting for you

Chorus
