words won't come, still i write i'm in love, still i fight wars inside a whisper from you truth burns deep by yourself you don't feel no one else but i complete the balance of you falling falling miles and miles behind the love i see apart from you tonight in the time it takes to ease the reins that hold her i'll have come to know the battle scars of soldiers with a dagger in one hand and a flower in the sand i told her, i told her sometimes i forget you deep inside the past sometimes i forget you, oh...
