The sound of beating hearts so anxious
A sacred rhythm passing with desire
The time we spend alone, it saves us
The things we learn in solitude inspire
Its good to love for love is hard to find
But to love is realized

I can breathe you in
I can taste every moment
And the world in your patient eyes
It will wait til we have arived
Im so alive
And i breathe you in

Im breathing in your touch so reckless Im breathing in the words that slip softly from your fingertips
The one you've blessed is all but helpless
The largest lesson given will empower
Its good to love for love is hard to touch
If this life is large enough

I can breathe you in
I can taste every moment
And the world in your patients eyes
It will wait til we have arived
Im so alive
And i breathe you in

You sit on my pillow
Its enough to get me through
But theres so much more to learn apart from you
Our time in a bottle
Would be wasted if it were used
When theres so much more for love to prove

So i breathe you in
I can taste every moment
And the world in your patient eyes
It will wait til we have arrived
Im so alive
And i breathe you in
