leaving the hospital i stopped to see a man in a wheelchair and how did he get there i wonder five steps away from you cramped up with rage silent i sit here and how did i get here i wonder unaccountable just a vegetable holding on to his roots i want to be with you
i want to swim but i'm landlocked, tongue tied
i want to sail away
i want to breathe but i'm landlocked you take to sea with your battleship troops they crash through the windows in quiet crescendos of ocean if i were the child you once taught me to be i'd splash in the breakers but now watch the faker he sinks just a mime you see, don't know how to be won't take no for an answer
i want to be with you
maybe you're to blame you left me here enframed or maybe i should call it off and anchor myself for good
i want to be with you
ooh...
