It's going to straight to my head, I spit it out
Couldnt care any less
I know my senses are gone since long
I shut them off when you were coming home

Why did we keep this going on...

Feel's like this is all over my head
So I take our stories and throw them away
Feel's like this is all going insane
We should stop playing this game

I told you but my fingers were crossed, didn't fake it
Let's hope you didn't trust, me
In my head there's always a doubt
Though I'm sure this will be figured out

Why did we keep this going on...

Feel's like this is all over my head
So I take our stories and throw them away
Feel's like this is all going insane
We should stop playing this game

Red hearted people, tend to be trapped
Inside where there's nowhere to hide

Feel's like this is all over my head
So I take our stories and throw them away
Feel's like this is all going insane
We should stop playing this game

Feel's like this is all over my head
So I take our stories and throw them away
Feel's like this is all going insane
We should stop playing this game
