Arms open wide as you meet the other side of life
No turning back, no, the door will never crack again

All that we've been through
How could I have known I'd lose you

It's all 'bout what you leave and you left an endless sea of love
Are you ridin' high in style, are you watching all the while from above

I know that's you're alright
I won't put up a fight

I'll just raise a glass to you
See that smile as I do
I'll never ask you why
Just smile back and say goodbye for now

With the angels now you sing
They'll take care of everything
And as for us on earth
We'll believe that death is just rebirth

All that we've come through
I can't believe it's true
But, I know that's you're alright
I won't put up a fight

I'll just raise a glass to you
See that smile as I do
I'll never ask you why
Just smile back and say goodbye
Goodbye
Goodbye for now
