You had it coming
You had it coming for a long time running
And now it's over for us

But you've forgotten
You don't remember how we lost ourselves
In the words and the thoughts

"Separation is the key to success"
That's what you said to me when you were tired;
wanted some rest

You had it coming
You had it coming for a long time running
It's knocking at your door

You've got your money
But I've got my pride
It's kind of funny how you always try to run and hide

When things get stuck
When things get going
I'm left here by myself
And you go running away

You are alone
(You had it coming, you had it coming)
You are alone
(You had it coming, you had it coming)

What are you running from?
Where are you running to?
You never stop to take a break
Check out the view

I'm tired of cheap tricks, cheap talk, broken promises
And everything you tried to tell me was the truth
That's why

You are alone
(You had it coming, you had it coming)

You are alone
(You had it coming, you had it coming)

I've got this pain in my heart and it won't ever stop
You know the rules, you'd played the game so long now

I've got this pain in my heart and it won't ever stop
You know the rules, you'd played the game so long, goodbye, honey.

You are alone
(You had it coming, you had it coming)
You are alone
(You had it coming, you had it coming)

You are alone
(You had it coming, you had it coming)
You are alone
You had it coming, you had it coming
