Time goes by, I know That I'm learnin' Love, It lies Only hope that time can help erase No wonder I'm hurtin' I can see the lies all over your face That I'm cryin' Your love is dyin' The pain, the tears I can see in your eyes I should've know that you lied when you said to believe That you'd love me enough that you'd never leave But you just turned and walked away You didn't take my love for real You left me standing in the rain Now how am I to feel Love comes in and goes out Like a season You came in and walked out For no reason Do you really know what love is about You really had me thinkin' there wan't a doubt You wanted me to know That I had to love you now or never That you would love me forever But then you let me go
