Maybe tonight, I'm gonna tell him how I feel
Maybe, I'll leave well enough alone
Maybe, just maybe, he'll want to be my baby
What if he's got plans of his own

I'm waiting for the perfect moment
Lookin' for the perfect phrase
The one I finally choose is simply 'I love you'
As the words came out, I heard a voice inside me say

(What made you say that?)
Was it the moonlight, was it the starlight in your eyes?
(What made you say that?)
You've been listening to your heart
It's too late now, you don't want to take it back
'Cause I know love's what made you say that

I look up to see his reaction
And a smile slowly spread across his face
He said, "What took you so long?
That's what I've been waitin' on
I thought you'd take forever and a day"

(What made you say that?)

Was it the moonlight, was it the starlight in your eyes?
(What made you say that?)
You've been listening to your heart
It's too late now, I won't let you take it back
'Cause I know love's what made you say that

(What made you say that?)
Was it the moonlight, was it the starlight in your eyes?
(What made you say that?)
Have you been listening to your heart?
It's too late now, you don't want to take it back
'Cause I know love's what made you say that

Was it the moonlight, was it the starlight in your eyes?
(What made you say that?)
Have you been listening to your heart?
(What made you say that?)

Oh, what made you say that?
(What made you say that?)
Was it the moonlight, was it the starlight in your eyes?
(What made you say that?)
Have you been listening to your heart?
