I
the music began at his command and the singer drew his breath the melody rose and dawned on the land and pierced the emptiness and from a barren and lonely place life began to spring and on the stage of time and space
God threw back his head and began to sing

Chorus
Let there be light
Invade the darkness
Fill up the void
Replace the noise with sweet harmony
And let there be joy
And echoes of laughter
And the singer sings on
And still writes the song of the redeemed

II
Now, though beautifully sung
The song went unheard
And darkness returned again
But God had a plan in the second verse
To win back the hearts of men
A star rose up in the eastern sky
That night in bethlehem
And as the baby Jesus cried
God sang out his song
And the angels joined in

Chorus
Let there be light
Invade the darkness
Fill up the void
Replace the noise with sweet harmony
And let there be joy
And echoes of laughter
And the singer sings on
And still writes the song of the redeemed

And everytime a soul receives
That joyful Christmas song
He rises from his throne
And all creation sings along
