Though it appears we're through dont let that illusion make you sad we could no more say goodbye and if we would have say we never met so though we are parting tonight dont be afraid we'll be alright

the truth of us
is simply living a lie
in a little while
in a little while
we will find

after finding other loves tryin' to prove we're so aware and free but no matter how we run they're always gonna look like you and me so with time out to play out this hand we will discover us again

the truth of us
is simply living a lie
in a little while
in a little while
we will find
we will find
all that was strong
we will right
all that is wrong
the truth of us
is simply living a lie

we will find all was strong
we will right
all that is wrong
the truth of us
is simply living a lie
dont cry....dont cry
