I tossed and turned and tried counting sheep,
When will I ever learn, I'll never sleep.
'Til you're by my side, it's just a waste of time.
Ain't no use trying to get you off my mind.

So I guess I'll be confessin' my love, confessin' my love.
There ain't gonna be no restin' at all,
'Cos I want you too much.
I might get all embarrassed and a little tongue-tied,
'Cos I ain't had no lessons in expressin' it right.
Yes, I guess, I'll be confessin' my love to you tonight.

Toughest thing to do is up and speak my mind.
But I've been wantin' you for too long a time.
Now I just can't take this any more.
'Bout to hear some knocking on your front door.

'Cos tonight, I guess I'll be confessin' my love,
confessin' my love.
There ain't gonna be no restin' at all,
'Cos I want you too much.
I might get all embarrassed and a little tongue-tied,
'Cos I ain't had no lessons in expressin' it right.
Yes, I guess, I'll be confessin' my love to you tonight.

Yes, I guess, I'll be confessin' my love to you tonight;
Yes, I'll be confessin';
Yes, I'll be confessin' my love to you tonight.
Yes, I'll be confessin';
Yes, I'll be confessin' my love to you tonight.

(To fade.)
