That look in your eyes
I can see past the way you're not really smiling
You say you're alright
Come on I know you better than that

Maybe you need just more than time for this to heal
Girl I'm trying to help you
But it's just so hard when you're facing rejection

Aren't you feeling so lost right now
I wish I could save you but you're a million miles away
Come take my hand, it's all I can offer to you
I hope you dance, I hope you dance with me tonight
I hope you dance

Ooh

No flowers don't die
Not with the water they need to survive
But you're close to drowning
Underneath a pale moonlight

No it's not right
It's not right for you to feel like this
It's not the same
You're not the same girl that I once knew

But beneath all the sorrow, beneath all the pain
You'll end up finding there's no one out there to blame
But blame it all on me if you need a way to breathe
It's not worth it
It's not worth a single tear from you

Aren't you feeling so lost right now
I wish I could save you but you're a million miles away
Come take my hand, it's all I can offer to you
I hope you dance, I hope you dance with me tonight
I hope you dance
