Most girls, wish that they had your eyes
And boys secretly fantasize
But me i am just mesmerized
By your every word and movement

You are as close as a girl can be
To ideal somehow you disagree
The world sees perfection but all you see
Is room for more improvement

Silly girl pretty girl
If you dont see
What a spell your sweet love has cast on me
Girl and i pray that never will this trance be broken

I melt, in your mouth when u talk to me
I wanna kiss you so slow and sweet
You are, the book that i want to read
In braille cover to cover

You're so deep inside
You're my DNA
You're how tall i am
You're how much i weigh
You're the reason someone had to pen the phrase:
"To know her is to love her"

Silly girl pretty girl
If you dont see
What a spell your sweet love has cast on me
Girl and i pray that never will this trance be broken

Everything you do is like a movie scene
Every pose you strike is from some magazine
And i want to turn your pages

Silly girl pretty girl
If you dont see
What a spell your sweet love has cast on me

Silly girl pretty girl
If you dont see

What a spell your sweet love has cast on me
Girl and i pray that never will this trance be broken

No no, no no

Silly girl pretty girl
If you dont see
What a spell your sweet love has cast on me
Girl and i pray that never will this trance be broken
