From 100 yards across the room
Could be wrong could be right
Anticipation and space separate us tonight
'Cause I've never seen anything
Quite like you in all of my life
Your like a dream underneath
Red and green party lights

I know that it may seem like I'm staring into space
But I'm at a loss for words to say
Woman read my mind (my mind)

I wonder what it would be like
To go home with you tonight
Make a wish by candlelight
That we could make the morning wait a while

Repeat
I'm so in awe and tempted to just walk away
It seems like the closer I get
I forget everything I've had to say

I know that it may seem like I'm staring into space
But I'm at a loss for words to say
Woman read my mind (my mind)

I wonder what it would be like
To got home with you tonight
Make a wish by candlelight
That we could make the morning wait
