Space and time are as deep as you want them to be 'cause me i know that this will last forever it seems as though you're starting to lose hope just reach out, hold onto me, and know this is real and i sing yeah, oh yeah singing yeah, oh yeah

before it's too late, say you love me before it's too late, say you need me

and then of course there's this distance between us but that just makes coming home all the sweeter and i miss you on these winter nights holding you tightly so i could believe
