Blink once, blink twice i can't shake this feeling if i get any higher i'll go through the ceiling it's as if i've been asleep for awhile you've stolen my heart in an artistic style

if this is a dream promise you'll never wake me up
'cause i don't go back
no i don't wanna go back
'cause i don't wanna go back to life without you sweet dreams you whisper in my ear each night and i don't believe you've ever been so right i'm floating on air every moment of these days on my knees praying this isn't just a phase

twinkle twinkle little star you'll never really know just what you are i've tried but i just can't seem to tell you how much i love you through and through and through (through and through and through)
