I don't remember the color of her eyes but I know they had the power to hypnotize I don't recall the color of her hair but I feel so alone when she's not there

what she said, it still echos in my head

(Chorus)
Won't you promise me the moon Promise me that sunny day
though its way too soon
Make that promise any way Promise me the moon promise me the stars above
though its way too soon
Promise all your love

(Verse 2)
So, if in the night or ships collide
We cannot abort it if we tried And to know that I can't get no sleep If I make a promise I can't keep

(Chorus)
(outro)
Promise, promise, promise

(Chorus)
