Heaven knows that I've been sitting here for too long
Well I should close before something goes wrong
A different story is a different view
But I had the glory when I had you

I don't wanna be a broken down figure
Before the lights go out and I
I got something to say to you now
Maybe I could be a little more clever
Before the lights go out and I
I got something to say to you now

I guess this feeling won't last for too long
And my address is changing by the day
I'd write it down if I could spell
If it's so obvious why can't you tell

I don't wanna be a broken down figure
Before the lights go out and I
I got something to say to you now
Maybe I could be a little more clever
Before the lights go out and I
I got something to say to you now

A different story is a different view
But I had the glory when I had you

I don't wanna be a broken down figure
Before the lights go out and I
I got something to say to you now
Maybe I could be a little more clever
Before the lights go out and I
I got something to say to you now
